CABINET CONFERENCE

Our Relation to Foreign Countries Fully Discussed.

NO DEFINITE ACTION TAKEN.

Arbitrary Measures Will Not Be Resorted to For the Present—An Explanation Expected From the Different Countries Involved in the Present Complications. No Answer From Spain.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—The cabinet meeting yesterday lasted but two hours, everybody being present but Secretary Carlisle, who is in New York. The session is said to have been uneventful, thereby disappointing the expectations of those who looked for some decided aggressive action in foreign affairs. It is also said that there was an entire absence of friction between the members, although the principal subjects under discussion, relating to the various complications into which we have become involved with certain foreign countries, were well calculated to exhibit divergence of individual views.

It is presumed that the attitude of Great Britain toward Venezuela and Nicaragua was canvassed, but as far as can be gathered the secretary of state had no new matter touching this to impart, and it was not believed to be necessary to take any positive action in the absence of an explicit statement of the purposes of Great Britain.

As far as the Nicaraguan matter is concerned, it is not believed that our government is disposed to take issue with Great Britain as to her right to demand an indemnity for the unjust treatment of her consular agent and citizens, inasmuch as the United States has already and repeatedly gone on record as insisting on its own right in such cases to secure reparation for improper treatment of its citizens.

The only point upon which there can be a question is as to the method of collecting the indemnity, but there is reason to believe that in the view of the cabinet, the subject need cause no real trouble, as Nicaragua doubtless will agree to meet reasonable demands from Great Britain when it is made clear to her by our department of state that she can not do otherwise than rely upon the moral support of the United States, which might otherwise be disposed to use its good offices to secure an abatement of the amount of indemnity if the principle of an indemnity is conceded.

The situation as to Venezuela is believed to be giving the cabinet more concern by far, but as a treaty stated, it is the disposition to take no arbitrary action in the absence of a statement from Great Britain.

In view of the more weightier matters now engaging the attention of the administration, it is stated that foreign ministers in Washington are likely to be at least for the present, left undisturbed in their relations with our government. No answer beyond a purely perfunctory one, acknowledging the receipt of our communication and promising to make investigation, has been returned to Spain to our demand in the Alliance affair, and while under ordinary conditions, this might be resented by our government, a disposition was shown by the cabinet to make all due allowance for the fact that as a result of the overturning of the Spanish cabinet, the subordinates there dare not do anything to compromise the incoming cabinet.

PEACEFULLY

The Trouble Between Guatemala and Mexico Will Probably Be Settled.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—Advices are said to have been received at the Guatemalan legation, the effect of which has a tendency to place a more hopeful showing upon the relations between that republic and the government of Mexico.

The tenor of the reported information is to the effect that the disputed boundary limits have been a subject of recent very friendly consideration by proper authorities, representing both governments, and that a temporary arrangement has been entered upon which bids fair to result in an absolutely peaceful solution of the prevailing contentions between the two republics.

Minister Drops Dead.

ROANOKE, Va., March 23.—Rev. Dr. Brown Yonce, professor of ancient languages at Roanoke college, dropped dead from apoplexy about 8 o'clock yesterday evening at the Lutheran church in Salem just before the commencement of services. He was in his usual health, apparently, till a few minutes before his death. He was 68 years old, and a native of southwest Virginia. He had been a professor at Roanoke college since 1855. He was a widower and leaves three grown sons.

Oldest Democrat in New York Dead.

LYONS, N. Y., March 23.—John A. Pickett, who claimed to be the oldest Democrat in western New York, died here yesterday evening. He was born in Herliher, March 14, 1804, and cast his first presidential vote for Andrew Jackson. He never missed voting at presidential, state, county or local elections. He was the oldest of a family of 13, one brother of whom survives.

Strikers Become Riotous.

LIEGE, Belgium, March 23.—A general strike of the miners in the collieries here has commenced. Yesterday the strikers became riotous and there were several collisions between them and the police, in which revolvers and stones were freely used. Several men were wounded in the fighting. The ring-leaders of the rioters were arrested.

STILL THE WAR GOES ON.

Latest Events Concerning the Japanese-Chinese Embroglio.

LONDON, March 23.—A dispatch to The Times from Tien-Tsin says that Japanese cruisers have been hovering outside Taku for the past three days searching trading vessels.

Telegrams from the Chinese mission at Shimonoseki to the Peking government, have been intercepted by the Japanese.

Since the return within the last six days to Peking, of Minister Chang Hang, he had three audiences with the emperor. He is striving to aid Li Hung Chang, the peace envoy, who is now at Shimonoseki. His counsel is much sought, in view of the new request that the European powers interpose for the immediate ending of the war.

A Hong-Kong dispatch to The Times says that a rising occurred a short time since at Muiluk, in the southwestern part of the province Kwang-Tung. Similar risings are reported from the adjacent towns. Troops sent from Canton to quell the risings were repulsed with heavy loss. A siege of Muiluk is now intended.

HER FATE UNKNOWN.

British Steamship Greetlands May Have Been Lost at Sea.

NEW YORK, March 23.—A rate of 50 per cent is being asked for reinsurance upon the British steamship Greetlands, which sailed from this port March 9, for Cardenas, Cuba. After passing out of Sandy Hook, the vessel has not been sighted, and, although every effort has been made to find trace of her, her fate is unknown. Greetlands was about two-thirds laden with a general cargo valued at about $100,000, and the hull was worth about that amount also.

She was commanded by Captain E. Couillard, who hails from Quebec and was manned by a crew of 21. Ordinarily she should have made the trip to the Cuban coast in about six days. The Greetlands is iron and of 1,091 tons burden. She is about 230 long, 33 feet beam and 16 feet deep of hold. She hails from Quebec, is owned by F. W. Ross and at present is chartered by Munson & Company, of Wall street.

A Blaine Colored Nurse.

FORT WAYNE, March 23.—Isabella Workman, a colored servant at the home of Judge W. G. Colerick, is dead. She was born a slave on the plantation of Neil Gillespie, grandfather of James G. Blaine, and had been a nurse through five generations. Her exact age is unknown, but it is supposed that she was between 95 and 100 years old. She was acquainted with all the Blaines. The great statesman had a long interview with her in 1884, when he was in Fort Wayne. She will be buried at Indianapolis.

Huntington Indicted.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 23.—The United States grand jury yesterday afternoon returned an indictment against some party whose name is withheld and the amount of bail was fixed at $5,000. The afternoon papers assert the indictment is against C. P. Huntington, president of the Southern Railway company, for violation of the interstate commerce act in issuing passes to politicians.

Shot by a Widow.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., March 23.—John Martin was shot and killed here yesterday by Mrs. Lary, a widow. It appears that Martin attempted to enter Mrs. Lary's house against her will when she fired through the door, killing him. He leaves a wife and several children. Both parties are colored and were prominent in colored circles. The murderer was arrested and locked up.

Beer War Continues.

CHICAGO, March 23.—Efforts to stop the beer war that has been going on for several months have failed. Henry Bigelow of Boston, who undertook the difficult task of consolidating the independent brewers, says that he has no reason now for supposing that a combine will be formed this season.

SAN DIEGO, March 23.—Unknown robbers blew a safe at Ensenada, Lower California, and secured a gold bar valued at $13,000 and $2,000 in currency. The gold bar had been placed in charge of Don Manuel Riverol for shipment to this city. Dynamite was used to blow the safe.

Increased Log Cut.

MINNEAPOLIS, March 23.—The log cut in the pine regions of Minnesota is about concluded and is about one-fourth larger than last year's cut. This increase is largely due to the forest fires, which made it necessary to cut the logs this year in order to save them.

REVIEW OF TRADE.

R. G. Dun & Company's Weekly Report.

AN IMPROVEMENT IN BUSINESS.

The Volume of Domestic Trade Gains a Little, Money Is in Much Better Legitimate Demand, and the Force of Hands at Work Gradually Increases in Some Industries.

NEW YORK, March 23.—R. G. Dun & Company's weekly review of trade says: Indications of improvement in business grow more distinct. The most obtrusive of them, the speculative advance in cotton and in stocks, is the least reliable, nor can either of these be said to reflect actual improvement in business conditions. Railroad earnings are scarcely better, and the speculation is largely based on expectation of more effective monopoly in coal and some other products. London was buying largely, but as likely to sell on any rise. Cotton does not rise because there is more demand for goods, but there is more demand for goods because cotton is dearer.

More valuable indications are that the volume of domestic trade gains a little, money is in much better legitimate demand, and the force of hands at work gradually increases in some industries and in others is restricted only by strikes, which are presumably temporary.

The rise in cotton to 6.31 cents still seems to have scarcely any contact with the facts of demand and supply, but had a very substantial basis nevertheless, if, as some maintain, more cotton had been sold in this country for future delivery than could be produced here until another crop comes. American stocks were last Friday 1,345,026 bales, against 1,154,700 last year, with the general expectation that something over 700,000 bales will yet come forward, while foreign stocks of American are 600,000 bales greater than at this date after the great crop of 1891. Receipts continue large, and the movement has really no other basis than a belief that the next crop will be small.

The rise in wheat, which started with the report of wheat in farmers' hands, has been followed by a reaction, so that prices are lower than they were prior to that report, having falling 2-1/4 cents for the week. Western receipts were 1,988,214 bushels, against 1,633,331 last year, and for three weeks were practically equal to last year's, while Atlantic exports are small.

Corn has not followed, but after a rise of 51 5-8 cents, holds the price of a week ago, receipts being about a third of last year's and exports insignificant. Pork has declined 35 cents per barrel, and lard 10 cents per 100 pounds.

The advance in wages of coke workers raises the cost of fuel for a large proportion of the iron manufacturers, but as yet does not affect prices of iron or its products, as no increase in demand appears. Possibly it is hoped that larger buying will soon be prompted by the idea that pig and all products will be rendered more costly, though the large excess of production and producing capacity stands in the way. One scale of 10,000 tons steel rails, one cast pipe contract for 9,000 tons, a bridge and five building contracts aggregating nearly 5,000 tons are reported this week, but pig iron is weak without change, both at the east and at Pittsburgh, and no change of consequence is noted in the demand for finished products.

Copper production continues weaker at 9.25 for lake, American production in February being 12,720 tons and foreign 6,739, while tin has risen sharply to 18.9 cents. Lead is weaker with heavy sales, 2,500 tons to domestic and 1,500 to foreign takers at 3.05 to 3.1 cents, but large sales of tinplate are reported with prices a shade stronger.

The rise in cotton has stimulated buying of goods and given confidence to agents. Heavy transactions and some advances in prices appear in southern coarse goods, but not as yet in the fines. While many orders are detained by labor difficulties, there is also much complaint of cancellations, which appear to be justified in some cases by inferior quality, but in others not justified at all. Orders for fall are at present small and new business has been quiet.

Sales of wool gradually decrease, and for the week are smaller than last year, 4,174,900 pounds against 4,338,800. For three weeks of March sales indicate about 70 per cent of a full consumption. Failures during the past week have been 275 in the United States, against 244 last year, and 35 in Canada, against 50 last year.

DR. BREASTED.

He Found Many Interesting Relics of Ancient Egyptian History.

NEW YORK, March 23.—Dr. James H. Breasted, who is to fill the newly established chair of Egyptology at the Chicago university, was a passenger on the steamship Lahn. According to Dr. Breasted, the subject has never before been taught in any of the colleges in this country. Two years ago he went from Cairo up the Nile to the first cataract.

"During my journey," said he, "I was fortunate enough to obtain some priceless ancient pottery of the great period, some alabasters and five Egyptian mummies, one of which is thought to be that of a very ancient Egyptian priest and upon which may possibly be found some valuable manuscript."

He made numerous excavations at Thebes in co-operation with Dr. Peterie, the distinguished excavator.

FIRST DEGREE MURDER.

William Paul to Be Hanged For Killing His Father-in-Law.

GEORGETOWN, O., March 23.—The trial of William Paul, for the murder of his father-in-law, Joseph Yockey, in this county last July, resulted in a verdict of murder in the first degree.

The testimony during the trial was to the effect that young Frances Yockey, a 14-year-old girl, and sister to Paul's wife, went to live with the Pauls. That all three occupied the same bed, and the girl became in an interesting condition. She went home and told her father, and trouble resulted. Paul went about with a revolver, threatening to kill old man Yockey, because the latter was making trouble over the affair of Frances.

The night of the shooting all the Yockeys family, including Paul's wife, were in the sittingroom of old man Yockey's house, when the two youngest boys started out to the barn to turn the horses into the pasture for the night. They saw Paul standing outside, near the chimney, with a pistol in his hand, and immediately ran back into the house, followed by Paul, who, as he reached the door, fired. The bullet struck old man Yockey, who was standing in the center of the room, killing him instantly. Paul then disappeared, but was afterward caught. The defense was insanity.

Over 100 witnesses were examined, and the case was hotly contested by Young & Barnes and Bambach & Bambach for the prisoner, and Tarbell & Tarbell for the state. The jury was out three hours, and returned a verdict of murder in the first degree. Paul received the verdict with the same indifference that characterized him all through the trial.

HER DREAM

That Resulted in the Widow Getting the Pension She Lost.

RICHMOND, Ind., March 23.—Some time ago Louisa A. Burkett, a widow of Indianapolis, who had applied for a pension on account of the death of her soldier son, dreamed that Dr. I. C. Teague of this city, who had been the son's physician during his illness at Wabash, could furnish the missing link in the pension application.

A short time ago the old lady dreamed that the doctor was located here and that he owned two drugstores (which is true), and the dream was so vivid that she could actually describe the doctor's appearance and location. The old lady told her story to the special pension examiner and persisted so earnestly in her belief that the officer, I. J. Mabley, made a trip here, found Dr. Teague, who signed the necessary papers to make good the old lady's claim for the pension. The department has notified her that the pension will be granted.

Forty-Three Years in the Ministry.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 23.—Rev. Ninian S. Dickey, one of the pioneers of the Presbyterian pulpit and prominent church historian, died here yesterday afternoon, aged 72 years. His death occurred at the city hospital, where he submitted to the amputation of a diseased leg two weeks ago. Violent hemorrhages, which set in at 6 o'clock Thursday morning, were the cause of his death. Rev. Dickey was graduated from Lane Theological seminary, Cincinnati, and labored 43 years in the ministry. His father was John M. Dickey, the first Presbyterian minister ever ordained in the state.

Mourning as Dead For Ten Years.

LAPORTE, Ind., March 23.—James Disbron of Stevensville, who has been mourned as dead for the last 10 years by his wife and family, returned home yesterday. Disbron disappeared in 1885, and sought a home in South America, where, after amassing great wealth, he returned to his native land in search of his wife and children. The former, though mourning him as dead, had never remarried.

Lynching Feared.

CROWN POINT, Ind., March 23.—Henry Roney, who killed George Otke, a Hungarian, at Whiting was bound over to the circuit court yesterday without bail. Several strange Hungarians were seen prowling around the jail Thursday night, probably with the intention of taking the prisoner's life, but they were driven off by the sheriff. The authorities believe an attempt will be made to lynch him.

He Will Quit.

PERU, Ind., March 23.—After 20 years' hard labor, accompanied part of the time by dynamite and gunpowder explosions, riots, gutting of the place and other forcible measures, the proprietor of the saloon at Burlington will go out of business on April 7, his license expiring then, and for the first time in the period mentioned the place will be without a saloon.

GASTON, Ind., March 23.—This district has been noted for its abundance of natural gas but now a larger well has been completed than has yet been found. It was with great difficulty that the well was placed under control.

FILIBUSTERING BOAT

A Rumor That Such a Vessel Is Being Fitted Out.

INVASION OF CUBA TO BE MADE.

Men Engaged in New York to Go to Cuba.

Free Passage to the Island, Food Supplied Them and Paid a Salary of Fifty Dollars a Month—Cuban Sympathizers in Mexico.

NEW YORK, March 23.—A sensational story was afloat to the effect that a filibustering expedition was being organized in this city. According to the story an attempt is being made to fit out a large American schooner for the invasion of Cuba. It is stated that the name of the vessel and the addresses of the men who have organized the filibustering expedition are in the hands of the Spanish consul, Mr. Arturo Baldasano.

It is said that about two weeks ago the Spanish consul was informed that a suspiciously large number of men had been employed to go to Cuba. It was necessary that these men should be citizens of America, otherwise their employers had no "work" for them. The men were to be given free passage to and from the island, food supplied them, and were to be paid a salary of $50 per month. Of those who were hired, the ones who appeared to be entirely trustworthy and likely to keep the secret were told the real nature of the expedition.

The plan was changed, it was said, and it was arranged to send the hired men to Cuba on a steamer of one of the regular lines running to the island, instead of on the chartered schooner. The latter was to be loaded with munitions of war and if possible, the cargo was to be landed on the east end of Cuba, at present the scene of the disturbances there. The details of this plan, it was claimed, was learned through a detective who had been formerly in the employ of the Haytian government during the late revolution on the island.

Mr. Baldasano, the consul general, was told of the story yesterday evening by a representative of the Associated Press. He said very decidedly: "There is not a word of truth in the story. If such a craft was being fitted out here it would be to the interest of the United States to look after it. The Spanish government would also take the necessary precautions to prevent the success of the expedition. But I know nothing of the facts detailed and, of course, can not take any action concerning the matter."

AFFAIRS IN CUBA.

The Commander of the Spanish Cruiser Called on to Explain.

NEW YORK, March 23.—A special to The World from Havana says: The commander of the Spanish cruiser Conde de Venadito has been called to Havana to explain the Alliance affair.

A detachment of the coast guard, composed of five men of the Simancas regiment was lured into an ambush and cut to pieces by insurgents who attacked them with machetes.

A small party of insurrectionists has passed through the suburbs of Guanatanamo.

Another party commanded by Periquito Perez attacked the coffee plantation of Ermitano, in the suburbs of Yatares. It was repulsed and pursued by volunteers. It is known that the leader of this band of insurgents, a negro named Guiltaman, has died of wounds received.

CARRIED INTO MEXICO.

The Cuban Rebellion Causes Uneasiness in Our Sister Republic.

TAMPA, Fla., March 23.—The following advices have been received from the City of Mexico through Spanish official sources. In the capitals of the various Mexican states, Cuban committees are raising funds for the insurgents in Cuba. The Spaniards in some localities are offsetting this by preparing to organize for service in support of the crown in Cuba. They have appointed a committee to await on the Spanish minister to ask him to obtain from President Diaz permission to organize such bodies on Mexican soil.

This action has come to the knowledge of Spaniards in Spain, and at least 100 declare they will form themselves into a volunteer company to go to Cuba and enlist in the Spanish cause.

ENGLISH SAILOR SHOT.

A Spanish Sentinel in Santiago De Cuba Was the Shootist.

BALTIMORE, March 23.—The news was received here yesterday that a sailor of the English steamer Laurestina, had been shot by a Spanish sentinel in Santiago de Cuba. It is not known that the shot was fatal.

The Laurestina is consigned to the Joseph B. Foad company of Baltimore; and sailed from Santiago on Wednesday last with a cargo of iron ore for the Maryland Steel company. She is expected to reach Baltimore within two or three days. The crew was shipped at a foreign port.

Upon the arrival of the Laurestina particulars of the shooting may be obtained. Present information, which is very meager, is that the seaman had forgotten or refused to give the countersign when challenged.

BUENOS AYRES, March 23.—An official dispatch received in this city states that the revolution in Peru is ended, and that General Caceres, who resigned the presidency shortly after the armistice at Lima, will leave the country.

ANOTHER HOME SADDENED.

Death Claims Mrs. Charles Lurvey.
The Summons Came Last Night
at 10:30 O'clock.

Death has visited another Maysville home and left it in sadness and sorrow.

Mrs. Julia M. Lurvey, whose serious illness has been mentioned, passed away last night at 10:30 o'clock at the home of the family on East Front street. Her health had been failing several months, and for the last five weeks she had been unable to leave her bed. She was a sufferer from nervous prostration and consumption.

Deceased was a daughter of the late William Burrows and was thirty-three years of age. Her husband, Mr. Charles W. Lurvey, survives her and she leaves two sons. The sincere sympathy of their many friends goes out to the husband and the little ones in the great loss they have sustained.

Deceased was a member of the First Baptist Church and was an estimable Christian woman.

Miss Cartwright, the Evangelist.

The people commenced to assemble at the M. E. Church last evening at an early hour, and long before the appointed time for services the house was well crowded, and extra seats had to be brought in and placed in the aisles in order to accommodate the people. Miss Cartwright addressed herself to the backsliding Christians, and urged them to come back to God and renew their vows.
The large audience was very attentive throughout, showing that all were deeply interested. At the close, two persons went forward to the altar and were converted and united with the church.

Services to-morrow will be held as follows: Sunday school 9:15 a. m.; preaching at 10:30 a. m. and 7 p. m.; Pentecostal services conducted at 2:30 p. m.; Epworth League devotional meeting at 6 p. m.
You are cordially invited.

Tobacco Notes.

The tobacco acreage in Clark County will likely be much less this year than it was in 1894. The farmers up that way will give more attention to hemp and cattle.

shafts has been operated at a good big profit for more than a year, and is yet a big producer. The other lot bids fair to be better. It has only just been opened up ready for work and commenced pro-

M'GARVEY VS. CAKE.

The Former Continues His Review of the Recent "Half-Hour Talks on the Bible."

The Lexington Preacher Criticises Mr. Cake's Criticisms of the "Book of Books"

I proceeded last week with my review of these "Talks" so far as to notice the ninth specification of the talker's ignorance of his subject. I now give a few more specifications under the same head.

10. In the fifth essay he advances the proposition, that in consequence of what he calls an abuse of the twenty-one epistles in the New Testament, "It would have been far better for Christianity had they never been known beyond those to whom they were written;" and in this connection he says:

Paul in First Corinthians vii, declares in three things that he but expresses his opinion, his judgment, and that the Lord had nothing to do with it.

The last statement is a misrepresentation. Instead of saying that "the Lord had nothing to do with it," he (Paul) closes the discussion by saying, at the end of the chapter, "and I think that I also have the Spirit of God." If Paul thought that he had the Spirit, what right has Mr. Cake to say that he did not have it? To suppose that he was ignorant of the apostle's concluding remark, is the most charitable excuse that I can offer for him.

11. In the same essay, speaking of the prophets of the Old Testament, he says: "They were in no sense foretellers, prognosticators, but preachers of righteousness."

They were certainly preachers of righteousness, and they were certainly not prognosticators, which means men who foretold the future from indications in the present; but to say that "they were in no sense foretellers," is to contradict the prophets themselves, and to reject the testimony respecting them of Jesus and the apostles. Every reader of the Bible ought to know this, and Cake is far too ignorant to be a preacher if he does not.

12. Speaking of Israel during the Babylonian captivity, he says:

Babylonia has laid her heavy hand on this proud people. They have passed into a cloud; their creative spirit is gone; prophecy only in a degenerated form has disappeared, and they hang their harps on the willows, refusing to sing in a strange land, when they remember Zion. The Exile gives us such books as Jeremiah, Ezekiel, Obadiah, Second Isaiah, Lamentations; Judges, Ruth, Samuel and Kings.

This classification of Jeremiah, Ezekiel and the so-called Second Isaiah, as prophecy in a "degenerated form," is as stupid a blunder as could well be imagined. By the common consent of critics of all schools, the last twenty-seven chapters of Isaiah, here called "Second Isaiah," is incomparably the finest piece of prophetic writing in the Bible; and to put the other books mentioned here in a list of "degenerated" writings, is to make the man who puts them there a laughing stock to all critical students of the Bible.

13. Speaking of the period after the return from Babylon, Mr. Cake says: "The popular religion of this period was a composite of heathenisms and Hebrew ceremonialisms. [Where did he get the plural of the two words?] Farther on he says, "Idolatry was not the exception but the rule;" and then he quotes with approval the following from Heber Newton:

The symbolism of the Jerusalem temple was throughout idolatrous. Twelve oxen upholding the laver, and the horns of the altar, symbols drawn from the prevalent bull worship, the chariot or sun images, representing the rays of the sun in the shape of a cone, and the chariots and horses of the sun, a very common ancient symbol, familiar to us in Guido's Aurora.

No man but an ignoramus on the subject could have written this; for it is well known that after the captivity the Jews were never again idolatrous. Read Ezra and Nehemiah, then read Josephus from the date of Nehemiah to the time of John the Baptist, and the falsity of the first two statements quoted above will appear most glaring. The slander against the temple and its symbolism must be recognized as such by every one who has read the account of its construction and dedication by Solomon. The horns of the altar, instead of being taken from "bull worship," were nothing but the projecting upper ends of the corner posts into which the sideboards of the altar were framed. They had as little to do with bull worship as similar projections which can probably be found on some of the church steeples in Maysville. It is an architectural term. The sun worship, and the horses and chariots of the sun, which he mentions, were forms of idolatry introduced by the idolatrous kings of Judah long before the captivity, and destroyed by King Josiah. See II. Kings xxiii. 11. Mr. Cake does not say from what work of Newton he takes this extract; but if Newton wrote it with reference to the period after the captivity, this makes him out as great a blunderer as Cake. At any rate R. H. Newton the rationalist is no authority on such questions.

It is refreshing to read, just after this display of dense ignorance, the following sentence with which this lecture closes:

The above sentiment may be a bomb-shell in the ranks of petrified conservatism and the settled apathy of ignorance. Then let it be such and more.

It is a straining of metaphor to call the sentiment a bomb-shell at all; but such as it is, it has exploded in the hand of him who was aiming to fire it off; and its flash shows plainly where the ignorance is.

14. In the sixth essay Mr. Cake glances at some "historical errors and numerical exaggerations." I cannot notice all of these now, but will mention a few coming under the head of his ignorance, and leave others for another connection. He says:

Take this from Matthew xxiii. 35, where it is stated that the Jews slew Zacharias, son of Barachias, between the temple and the altar. It should be Zacharias son of Jehoida, notably a different man. Barachias lived some two hundred years later. See Revised Version.

This is an instance in which ignorance assumes the air of infallibility; for it is Jesus who says they slew Zacharias the son of Barachias, while our Cake claims that he ought to have said Jehoida instead of Barachias. And pray, how does he know what Jesus ought to have said? I suppose he reasons thus: The Jews did slay Zacharias the son of Jehoida, (2 Chron. 24:20, 221), and therefore they did not slay Zacharias the son of Barachias. But Jesus says they did slay the latter, and my opinion is that Jesus knew more about it than Cake does. This Zacharias was the prophet whose book we have (see Zach. i. 1), and of whose death the Old Testament says nothing. The extract just made closes with the citation, "See the Revised Version," as if some support to the assertion could be found there; but this version has not a single note on the subject. It presents the case precisely as does the old version. What then did he mean by making this citation? I will not guess out aloud.

15. Under the head of "numerical exaggerations," he represents the Bible as saying that Enoch was 905 years old. He says:

Then we have the account of Methuselah living to the great age of 969 years and Enoch 905 years.

It seems to me that a man who can exaggerate Samson's foxes from three hundred to three thousand, and Enoch's age from three hundred and sixty-five to nine hundred and five, is not exactly the man to criticise the exaggerations of the Bible. Perhaps he judges the Bible writers by himself. On the subject of numerical exaggerations we shall have more to say in another connection.

16. I will close this article with just one more specimen, in which it is hard to tell which is more conspicuous, the ignorance, or the impudence. In speaking of the fatal results of the rebellion of Korah, he says of Aaron's closing act in the tragedy:

The priest with the incense made an atonement and stayed the plague, showing more mercy than Jehovah.

Who, unless it be E. B. Cake, does not know that when the plague stopped as fast as Aaron ran through the camp (Num. xvi. 46-50) it was Jehovah who stopped it? How dares this man then, to say that the transaction makes the priest show more mercy than Jehovah? This sounds like Bob Ingersoll and not like a preacher. J. W. M'GARVEY.

QUICK BUT TERRIBLE, Was the Death of an Electric Company Manager.

Petaluma, Cal., March 23.—William S. Pierce, manager and chief owner of the Petaluma Electric Light and Power company, president of the Pierce Telephone company, president of the California Dairyman's union and one of the most wealthy and prominent citizens, was instantly killed by contact with one of the wires. Driving with an assistant looking for broken wires, the latter climbed a pole in Main Street park, receiving a shock which frightened him, and he rapidly descended.

Pierce, who had been ordered to take active exercise for his health, determined to climb a pole, heedless of the assistant's warning. He started to ascend the pole and on reaching the first cross piece, about 40 feet from the ground, sat on it with his legs astride the big pole. He ran his right hand several times over several wires, when suddenly he touched one from which the insulation had been burned. A sheet of flame immediately shot forth and Pierce, without a sound, dropped backward. His body was still on the cross piece and he hung with head, hands and feet downward, two heavy wires sustaining the body and keeping it from falling. Citizens soon gathered and the current was cut off at the works.

A hook and ladder truck, which had been hastily summoned, was utilized in taking the body down. It was a terrible task in the storm. The body had been on the pole for about 15 minutes, the current being on for four minutes of the time, and it is estimated that between 5,000 and 7,000 volts of electricity passed through the body during the time the current was on.

The blackened remains were carried into an adjacent hotel and several doctors worked for an hour, but resuscitation was impossible.

RECOVERING THE VICTIMS.

Twenty-Four Bodies Have Been Taken From the Red Canon Mine.

EVANSTON, WY., March 23.—The fire which broke out Thursday in Red Canon mine No. 5 of the Central Pacific has been extinguished, and 24 bodies were recovered, as follows: Samuel Bates, Isaac Johnson, John Lopar, John Wilkes, Matt Sill, Henry Burton, John Lehti, H. A. Nyberg, Matt Johnson, Samuel Holston, William Graham, Jr., Joseph A. Hyde, William Pope, George Hardy, John G. Martin, David Lloyd, William Langdon, Sr., James T. Clark, Aaron Butte, John R. Fearn, William Weedup and Henry Seothern.

This leaves 14 out of 53 who were buried in the mine yet to be recovered. There are good prospects that the other bodies will soon be recovered as the ventilation in the mine is getting better. A general funeral will take place on Sunday.

Andrew Mason, wounded in the head by flying timbers, died yesterday at 1 o'clock, making the total deathroll 61.

Was Once in Love.

GREENSBURG, Ind., March 23.—In a small clearing surrounded by dense woods, on the bank of Clifty creek, about six miles from here, lives a very queer and interesting person. His name is Frank Doggett, and for more than 30 years he has made this place his home. He is now 60 years of age, and a love affair drove him to the wood.

Nonunionists Fired On.

MARTIN'S FERRY, O., March 23.—Two nonunion employees at the Buckeye glass works were out with ladies last night. While they were walking up Fourth street under the railroad viaduct five shots were fired at them and several stones thrown. The nonunionists ran without ceremony and reached the works without further molestation.

Gas Matters.

PORTLAND, Ind., March 23.—It is authoritatively stated that the Ohio and Indiana Pipe Line company, will put down another pipe line from the Indiana gas fields to supply Ohio towns. Work will begin as soon as the weather permits, and it is said that 100 gas wells will be drilled in the territory southwest of Dunkirk.

What He Bought.

What Shall I Take?

is the anxious question asked by those who are not feeling well—have no appetite—are out of sorts—have no energy—feel tired out. Perhaps you are feeling sick yourself!

Many medicines are recommended, doctors consulted—(in many cases) much money spent in this search for health—and yet it can all be avoided.

Wise people commence at once taking

Brown's Iron Bitters

and are soon made well and strong. Nearly every prescription given by physicians for such troubles contains IRON—which some people say they cannot take. Try Brown's Iron Bitters—it is warranted not to give headache, stain the teeth or cause constipation as all other Iron Medicines do.

Genuine has the crossed Red lines on the wrapper.
